

Institutional and Professional Licensure Disclosures for Enrolled and Prospective Students

Academic degree programs at North Carolina Central University satisfy the professional licensure and/or certification requirements in North Carolina and prepare students to sit for these exams. However, requirements in other states may be different.

If you are considering a program at NCCU that leads to licensure or certification and you do not live in NC, please note NCCU may or may not be able to advise whether a program meets requirements outside of North Carolina at this time. Prior to enrolling, please contact the respective program coordinator to discuss this information.
